PERSONAL SUMMARY

I consider myself a highly motivated, polite and reliable person, with excellent organisational and multitasking skills, proved by years of performance experience. I have the ability to work successfully and efficiently with great results. I'm an adaptable person, with fast and disciplined learning and a good team worker. I'm always looking for job opportunities in an international environment in order to grow up both personally and professionally. Different life experiences have taught me the importance of prioritizing decisions and being a reliable worker and performer.
